This log file information may include information such as your computer's Internet Protocol address, browser type, browser version, the pages of our Service that you visit, the time and date of your visit, the time spent on those pages and other statistics.

How do we use this information?

We use all the information we have to help us provide and support our Services. Here is how:

- a. remember information so you will not have to re-enter it during your visit or the next time you visit the Service;
- b. provide, improve, test, and monitor the effectiveness of our Service;
- c. To help you efficiently access your information after you sign in;
- d. monitor metrics such as total number of visitors, traffic, and demographic patterns;
- e. diagnose or fix technology problems;
- f. develop and test new products and features; and
- g. automatically update the Scanfully application on your device.

Communications

We may use your information to contact you with newsletters, marketing or promotional materials and other information that may be of interest to you. You may opt out of receiving any, or all, of these communications from us by following the unsubscribe link.

How is this information shared?

We will not rent or sell your information to third parties outside Scanfully.

Change of control

If we sell or otherwise transfer part or the whole of Scanfully or our assets to another organization (e.g., in the course of a transaction like a merger, acquisition, bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation), your information collected through the Service may be among the items sold or transferred. The buyer or transferee will have to honor the commitments we have made in this Privacy Policy.

Legal requests and preventing harm

We may access, preserve, and share your information in response to a legal request (like a search warrant, court order or subpoena) if we have a good faith belief that the law requires us to do so. We may also access, preserve, and share information when we have a good faith belief it is necessary to: detect, prevent and address fraud and other illegal activity; to protect ourselves, you and others, including as part of investigations; and to prevent death or imminent bodily harm. Information we receive about you may be accessed, processed and retained for an extended period of time when it is the subject of a legal request or obligation, governmental investigation, or investigations concerning possible violations of our terms or policies, or otherwise to prevent harm.

Safety and security

Scanfully has taken appropriate technical and organizational measures by using the latest technologies to protect your information against misuse, loss, unauthorized access, unwanted disclosure, unauthorized modification or any other form of unlawful processing. We use safeguards to help keep the information collected through the Service secure and take steps (such as requesting a unique password) to verify your identity before granting you access to your account. However, Scanfully cannot ensure the security of any information you transmit to Scanfully or guarantee that information on the Service may not be accessed, disclosed, altered, or destroyed. We request you to do your part to help us. You are responsible for maintaining the secrecy of your unique password and account information, and for controlling access to emails between you and Scanfully, at all times. We are not responsible for the functionality, privacy, or security measures of any other organization.

Retention period

In accordance with the law, Scanfully does not retain data any longer than is required for attaining the purposes for which they were collected, unless «=naam_kort» is obliged to do so based on a legal provision.

Inspection and correction

If you wish to know which of your data Scanfully has recorded or if you wish to amend or remove data that you cannot amend via your account, please contact Scanfully.

Third-party applications, websites and services

We are not responsible for the practices employed by any applications, websites or services linked to or from our Service, including the information or content contained within them. Please remember that when you use a link to go from our Service to another application, website or service, our Privacy Policy does not apply to those third-party applications, websites or services. Your browsing and interaction on any third-party application, website or service, including those that have a link on our Services, are subject to that third party's own rules and policies.

Children's privacy

Our Service does not address anyone under the age of 13 ("Children"). This age is depending on the age established in each EU Member State. We do not knowingly collect personally identifiable information from children under 13. The age threshold for obtaining parental consent varies between 13 and 16 years. If you are a parent or guardian and you are aware that your Child has provided us with personal information, please contact us by . If we become aware that we have collected personal information from a child under the age of 13 without verification of parental consent, we take steps to remove that information from our servers.

Changes to this privacy policy

Scanfully may modify or update this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will notify you of any changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on this page. You are advised to review this Privacy Policy periodically for any changes. Changes to this Privacy Policy are effective when they are posted on this page.
